DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS

Positive Approach to Care

On April 22, seniors and local community members participated in a Positive Approach to Care training presented by Kensington Sierra Madre and hosted at the Hart Park House. This ongoing program takes place four times each year, with two sessions held at the Hart Park House. The training provided valuable guidance on communication techniques and compassionate approaches for supporting individuals experiencing memory loss and dementia. Participants gained practical tools to better understand and connect with others, while reinforcing the importance of dignity and patience in daily interactions. The program continues to be a well received and meaningful resource for the community.

Community Outreach

Please continue reaching out to your local contacts and neighborhood gathering places such as schools, nonprofit organizations, clubs, and faith based groups that may have interest in our Senior programming. Your outreach can help raise awareness, spark new partnerships, and ensure the space reflects the interests and needs of our community. We appreciate your efforts in helping us create a vibrant and well connected community hub.
